WOULD YOU DRINK DIRTY WATER?

NEARLY A BILLION PEOPLE HAVE NO CHOICE

5,000 CHILDREN DIE EVERY DAY
FROM WATER RELATED ILLNESS

water4

is dedicated to empowering communities by training, equipping, and supporting local men and women to be the solution to their own communities' water needs, ultimately helping save some of the 5,000 children who died every day from water-related illnesses.

Justin Wren, star UFC fighter, is known for his stellar fighting skills, but also known for his big heart. On a trip to the Congo, Justin met the Mbuti Pygmy people also called "The Forgotten People", who were enslaved because they had no clean water or land of their own. After several trips through the years to help his Pygmy family and living in the Congo for a full year, something happened. A young boy died while holding his hand all because he had no clean water. This prompted Justin to create Fight for the Forgotten. He then teamed up with Water 4 so all Pygmy tribes around the world would not only have clean water, but would no longer be enslaved.
